

Of the 28,559 participants who took part in the survey:

59%

reported separation
from family

22%

reported being unable to access usual healthcare

20%

reported the presence
of depressive symptoms

6%

reported moderate
or severe anxiety

13%

reported being unable
to access necessary
supplies or food

57%

reported negative or very negative consequences of COVID-19
on the participant and their household

